

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.

Good Listening Checklist

1.	Avoid talking loudly and watch your teacher so you know when the lesson is about to start.
2.	Stop any conversations straight away. You can continue it later if you want to.
3.	Make eye contact. Your facial expressions will let your teacher know that you are listening.
4.	Remember not to call out even when your teacher asks the class a question. Put your hand up instead.
5.	Try to avoid getting distracted by others and definitely don't distract them.
6.	Answer and ask questions to show your teacher how well you have listened.

Created by davlae. Look out for my other resources on Tes.